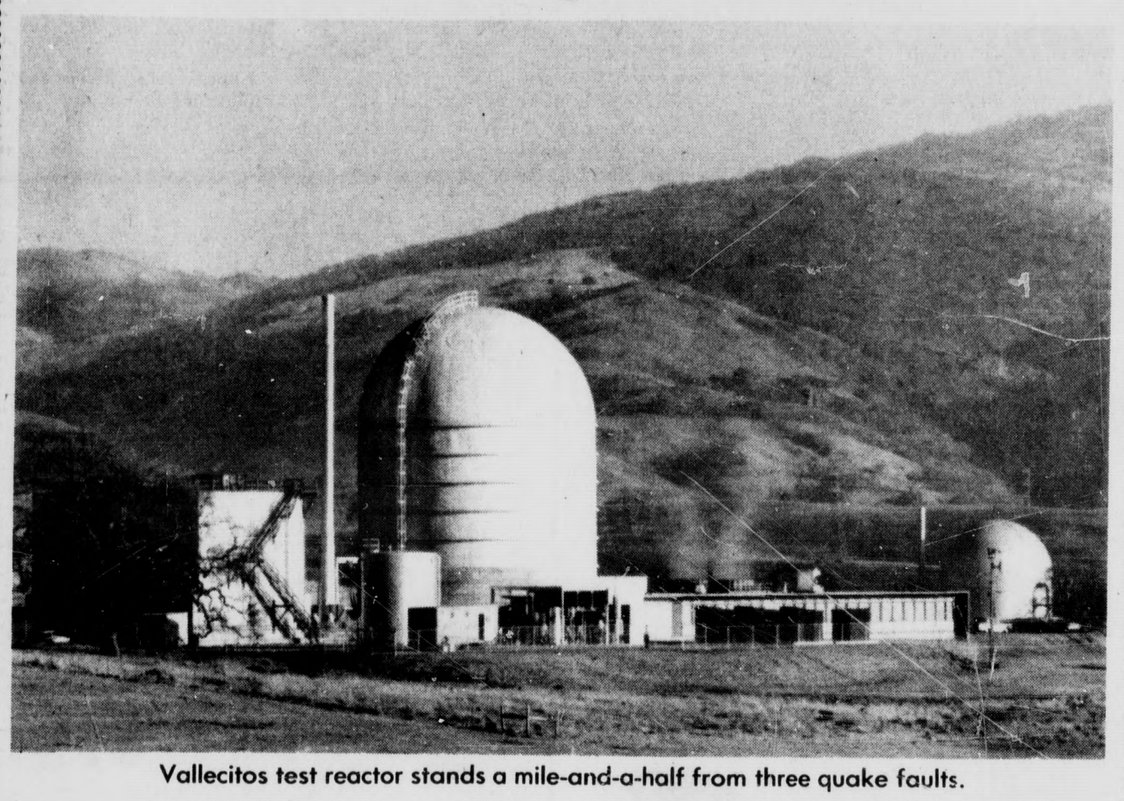
Citizen protest



Vallecitos test reactor stands a mile-and-a-half from three quake faults.

New fault at Vallecitos, safety hearing requested

PLEASANTON — A newly - discovered earthquake fault near the General Electric Vallecitos Nuclear Center, in an area which the U.S. Geological Survey says has "abundant earthquake activity," has prompted a citizens group to ask that public hearings on the plant's safety be opened.

"Alameda County Citizens Aganist Vallecitos," an Oakland - based group, has requested the Nuclear Regulatory Commission to make public all hearings on GE's license renewal application. If granted, the center could continue to operate its nuclear reactor for another 20 years.

The permit expired Oct. 5, 1976, but is automatically renewed for an indefinite period until government studies of its renewal bid are completed.

Built in the late fifties, the Vallecitos plant is surrounded by three active earthquake faults — Calaveras, Verona and the recently announced Las Positas fault. All three are about 1½-miles from the center.

An NRC spokesman said yesterday the plant was built to withstand a ground acceleration force of .38 g's.

Dr. William Joiner, a geophysicist at the U.S. Geological Survey in Menlo Park, stated yesterday that a 7.6 (Richter Scale) force earthquake, the largest expected on any of the three faults, would probably cause it to move more than the accepted standard.

"I would expect it to be more than .38 (g's)," Joiner said. "I would really be surprised if it weren't exceeded."

The NRC spokesman said that standards had changed since Vallecitos center was built, but that not all new regulations were applied retroactively. When asked if economic reasons were the justification, he said, "I guess it would boil down to that."

He further stated that government study of the renewal began about a year ago when GE submitted the application Following approximately one more year of technical study, public hearings would routinely be opened in the Bay Area for citizen input.

The application concerns itself only with the nuclear reactor at Vallecitos. It does not cover the breeder reactor program, which produces great amounts of radioactive plutonium, the citizen group's main concern.

A General Electric spokesman said last night that the newly discovered fault does not represent a "significant hazard based on its magnitude."

Elderly in bind

Transit campaign stuck in the mud

SAN RAMON — Efforts to obtain a more extensive transportation system to serve Valley senior citizens have bogged down in mire of red tape, according to Phil Flores, chairman of the San Ramon Area Committee on Aging.

The group headed by Flores is a subcommittee representing the Area Agency on Aging for Contra Costa County. The main office is located in Concord.

According to committee findings, there is no way for soe elderly persons to get to doctors, dentists, grocery stores or shopping; especially if they are handicapped.

Committee members said the elderly weren't the only ones in need of better transportation.

Flores said numerous grants were available to provide funding to a transportation system.

"But systems backed by grants are not as rosy as they look," he said. "There's always a hitch somewhere — stipulations — red tape. It's not a simple matter. But I want people to know we haven't given up. We are still trying to do something."

The Valley Community Services District (VCSD) board of directors agreed to seek special legislation enabling them to provide a transportation system in Alameda County. Flores requested VCSD help last month.

"And Supervisor Eric Hasseltine is trying to help us out on the Contra Costa County side of the fence," Flores said.

"But for now I'm going to tackle BART officials and see about getting them to extend their system," Flores continued. "We'll lick this problem somehow."

Flores said the more he and other committee members delved into the problems of transportation, the more they realized there were other needs that needed fulfilling.

"We're so close to these elderly people but don't always realize what their needs are," Flores said. "That's what our committee needs to find out. Anything we can do to help these people we're going to try to do it."

Expanding a Meals on Wheels program is one of the first things committee members said they wanted to take care of. Now, the service is provided only as far south as Crow Canyon Road. Committee

Lizzie Fountain recycles, but also evaporates

Lizzie loses some, but she's a looker

LIVERMORE — Lizzie Fountain may spurt a lot of H20 into the air, but not all that water comes back down.

A recent study by the public works department included "paper calculations" which show water evaporation loss from the fountain equal to 25 per cent the water used by the typical single family residence year round.

Public Works Director Dan Lee, who designed the saucer - shaped fountain and spout, told The Times the fountain on the corner of North Livermore Avenue and First Street just doesn't use a lot of water.

He called the fountain an "aesthetically pleasing public benefit that provides a favorable visual impression for the travelling public and citizens using the downtown area."

"There isn't a current water shortage in the Valley," he said, "even though we are implementing a water conservation program."

City council earlier this week passed a resolution asking citizen support for programs of water development and programs to prevent water waste and misuse.

Included in alist of rules to eliminate water waste, the resolution asked for assurance that "ornamental fountains or any other structure making use of water employ a recirculating system."

Lee said Lizzie Fountain recycles its water.

The list also included avoiding washing sidewalks and other outdoor surfaces, avoiding washing dwelling exteriors (not including windows), repairing broken or defective plumbing and leaking sprinklers, avoiding "the running hose" when washing vehicles, encouraging use of inside water saving devices such as shower flow restrictors, limiting outside watering to certain hours, and ensuring full loads in dish and clothes washing machines.

Prior to passage of the resolution, Councilman Dale Turner unsuccessfull sought an amendment which would require the shutting or diminishing flow of Lizzie Fountain because "People don't understand it is recycled."

He has previously noted motorists driving along first street, a state highway, would get the wrong impression that Livermore does not care about the statewide water shortage.

Lee said the fountain is hooked into the same irrigation system to sprinkle grass and other plants at the two mini parks at that intersection.

He said the public works department measured the surface water area, as well as Lizzie's vertical spout, and made a paper estimate of the loss, "based on the amount of data we have on evaporation rate in the Valley." —by Neil Heilpern

Livermore man sought, ex-wife slain

LIVERMORE — Police are looking for a former school district carpenter following the murder of his ex-wife and apparent kidnaping of two of her three children Wednesday in San Bernadino.

An all points bulletin was issued for Roy Summers, also known as Roy Sommer, police said, a carpenter with the Livermore Unified School District until last month.

The body of his ex-wife, Beverly Wise, 26, was found in the living room of her Southern California home by her husband Claude Wise.

She had been stabbed once in the chest with a 10-inch butcher knife.

Neighbors said a man answering Summers description was seen loading one of the children into a gold Camaro-type car about the time of the murder.

Two of the children, Brandy Summers, 5, and Tiffany Wise, 2, are missing, according to police. A third child, an eight-month-old daughter, was found unharmed in another room.

Police said Brandy Summers suffers from cystic fibrosis and requires medication five times daily.

Two of Summers' fellow workers said they had just talked to him a week ago when he was home sick in his apartment off East Avenue.

They said he no longer is in town, but had gone to Utah to be with his wife and her family.

Those reports could not be confirmed.

Summers is wanted only for questioning, emphasized San Bernadino Sgt. John Klein. No warrants have been issued.

Toll free capital call

If the "bureaucratic red tape" gets to be too much for you, just call 800-952-5502.

Assemblyman John Knox, Richmond, announced this week that toll-free number has been established at the new Office of Business Development here to help both small and large businesses cope with "complex government regulations and bring in out-of-state business."

"Since the office began operations on March 1, it has acted successfully as an intermediary between a variety of businesses and government agencies," he said.

Knox urged local business people who need help in cutting through red tape or wish to offer constructive suggestions to contact the new office.

Valley bureau seeks aides

The Valley Volunteer Bureau will maintain temporary office hours during Easter vacation, April 4-7. Offices at 287 Rose Ave. in Pleasanton will be open from 9 a.m. till noon.

Phoebe Baxter, youth volunteer program coordinator, invites interested young people to drop in during these hours and discuss possible volunteer positions.

Water sales booming

Parched Northern Californians are lining up at mechanical oases to buy drinking water out of a machine at 20 cents a gallon.

"Sure, it's the drought," said Ken Rorsach, manager of the Concord supermarket where the water machine does a gushing business.

But John Arnds of AquaVend, the Hayward-based purveyor of pure and distilled water, said even before the dry spell his 6,000 or so machines were pumping vigorously in Southern California.

Directory contract

The Dublin Chamber of Commerce has contracted with Directory Sales Associates, Inc. of Castro Valley to compile, solicit advertising for, publish and distribute the chamber's first annual private telephone directory.

Assembly will pass death ruling - Mori

The state Senate approved a death penalty bill by more than a two - thirds margin and Assemblyman Floyd Mori predicts the lower house will do the same to virtually assure the state of a reinstituted death penalty.

The vote in the Senate was 29-10, two votes more than the two - thirds needed to override Governor Jerry Brown's annuounced veto of the bill.

Mori told The Times yesterday that "it will be very close, but there probably will be a two - thirds vote, adequate to override the governor's veto."

The Senate bill approved yesterday outlines a dozen or so specific crimes which will be punishable by death. Mori agrees with the Senate bill, saying that "in terms of justice and as a deterrant, it's a good bill".

He has not had a lot of mail about capital punishment. The mail has run two - thirds in favor of the death penalty, approximately the same as the support found in a recent statewide poll.

The debate in the Senate for 90 minutes was often emotional. Senate Majority Leader David Roberti, Democrat of Los Angeles, labeled the bill "vengeance", claiming it is not a proven deterrent to crime.

Senator John Dunlap, D. Napa, said the death penalty might encourage murder. "When the state does it, I do it. So does everyone else. An execution by the state government builds tolerance for violence."

Sen. John Briggs, Republican of Fullerton, said the death penalty "at least deters repeat murders by those executed.

"There's an army of murderers and criminals advancing on society," said Briggs. Society has "a right to have at least a modicum of the same kind of protection that the criminal has".

Sen. Alan Robbins, D. Van Nuys said, "I don't like the idea. I'm not going to feel good when I leave this chamber today after voting for a death penalty bill," but if the bill is not enacted, "then I know as sure as I stand on this floor, that innocent people will die."

Sen. George Deukmejian, R. Long Beach, said that "for every execution that occurs, anywhere between eight and 50 lives of innocent people are saved as a result of the deterrent effect that execution has on prospective killers."

Livermore man's body found

WEBB ISLAND — The body of a Livermore man who drown 10 days ago was fished from the San Joaquin River near here early Wednesday.

The body of Kenneth Allan Gabbard, 39, was found floating face-up by sheriff's deputy Sgt. John Walsh.

A family spokesman said Gabbard, his wife Bertha, and Sharon and Delma Hackstep of Richmond, had been fishing and picnicking on Bradford Island March 20 near "three-mile slough" off Antioch when the accident occured.

The group was backing out the 16-foot boat when it began to take on water across the stern.

Gabbard and his wife were moving to the center of the boat when a strong wave caught it broadside and capsized the craft, he said.

The husband was never seen again.

He leaves his wife and three children.

Funeral services in Livermore are pending.

A county power limit

City studies new measure

LIVERMORE — City officials are investigating new state legislation that Councilman John Staley thinks might limit ability of the Local Agency Formation Commission (LAFCO) from setting Livermore's sphere of influence at its city limits.

Staley, council representative to the League of California Cities, said a recent League bulletin mentioned SB467, introduced by State Senator Jerry Smith of San Jose.

"The League bulletin indicates the bill would make it impossible or illegal for the county to do that," Staley told The Times. He asked City Manager Bill Parness to obtain copies of the bill and put the matter on a future council agenda for discussion.

Staley stressed the importance of Livermore officials to "have some influence over areas surrounding the city, because we may some day have to provide city services for them."

A representative from Assemblyman Floyd Mori'soffice told The Times she had been in touch with Smith's Sacramento office yesterday and could not get a definite answer whether or not the legislation would affect Livermore's lengthy battle with LAFCO over this city's sphere of influence.

The bill has been sent to Senator Milton Marks' committee on local government, where it is waiting for a hearing date, according to Mori's staff member.

Admitting he hadn't actually seen the bill, Staley listed several options for Livermore: "We may decide there is nothing in the bill; we could oppose it; we could offer suggested amendments; or we could testify in Sacramento."

Two years ago the city lost the right to retain the 9,000 - acre Las Positas Valley in its sphere of influence, cutting its ability to prevent future development of Harlan Geldermann's planned New Town community of 50,000 people.

Livermore initiated litigation against LAFCO in 1975 and again in 1976 when LAFCO reduced the Livermore sphere of influence to actual city limits.

The sphere shrinkage came after a February, 1976 LAFCO hearing when residents of adjacent unincorporated areas expressed fears the city would prevent them from developing their land the way they wanted. Some feared unwanted annexation by the city.

Livermore man sought by police

Livermore policeman Jim Serna said Summers is not a native of the Valley, but had lived here "at least a year." Serna would only say he knows Summers "through my official capacity as an investigator."

Summers also reportedly worked as a horse - shoer on a nearby ranch.

The state Department of Motor Vehicles confirmed his address at a ranch, but police would not release the information.

Summers is described as white, 5-foot, 10-inches, 160 pounds, with brown hair and blue eyes.

County's drought may prompt fireworks ban

Alameda County Bureau

OAKLAND — Even "safe and sane" fireworks will be banned from the county's unincorporated areas if county supervisors go ahead with emergency legislation proposed for this spring.

If the drought continues, they said last week, they will declare an emergency May 1 and ban both the sale and use of sparklers, smoke bombs, sparkling cones and other traditional July 4 celebrants.

All other types of fireworks already are illegal throughout the state.

County Fire Chiefs Association spokesman Matt Jiminez of Hayward and Newark Fire Chief Bud Spalding have been lobbying the board for the ban.

This week supervisors voted 4-0 to give "very serious consideration" to declaring a "state of emergency" because of the drought.

Unless the county declares the emergency, state law preempts it from banning the sale of the so - called "safe and sane" fireworks.

The fire chiefs said the state's second straight year of drought makes the county prime for fires this summer.

"City councils have felt their cities should not ban the safe and sane fireworks if they are being sold nearby in the county," said Spalding. "But the feeling might change now that the county is banning them."

The state legislature also is considering banning the safe and sane variety.

But industry attorney Stephen M. Kass of Oakland said banning the non-explosives will only promote the sale of the more dangerous, illegal variety.

Supervisors Valerie Raymond and Joseph Bort led the move to ban the fireworks.

New tax bill would assist area schools

A new state school funding program, geared to satisfying Serrano-Priest dictates and restructuring aids to school districts, cleared an Assembly committee Thursday and is expected to reach the State Senate by the end of this month.

AB-65, the bill by Leroy Greene, seeks not only to equalize aid between high and low wealth districts but equalize educational opportunities, particularly for districts with high percentages of minority students.

The tax rates of Valley districts would drop under the figuring of Department of Finance fiscal calculators. The one exception would be Sunol Glen.

Livermore's rate, for example, would drop a projected 43 cents over the next five years. Murray's would decrease by 62 cents.

Greene's bill provides for additional state aid totalling $23 million in 1977-78 increasing to a sum of $117 million in 1980-81 for a new program designed to improve elementary and secondary schools.

This modified new fiscal program employs a mechanism to allow the tax rates of high wealth districts to decline by 10 per cent of the amount they would otherwise have been permitted to decline

Mori named

Assemblyman Floyd Mori Thursday was named to the Assembly Ways and Means Committee, considered the most powerful panel in the Assembly. Dan Boatwright of Concord is chairman. Mori is also a member of the Education, Revenue and and Revenue and Taxation committees.

Tentative pact agreement

Amador classified staff OK's terms

Classified employes of the Amador and Pleasanton school districts and the administration have reached a tentative agreement on a contract for 1976-77 and 1977-78.

Amador district classified employes will receive a 3.7 per cent increase in salary plus .6 per cent for equalization and Pleasanton employes 4 per cent. Classified employes include custodians, secretaries, bus drivers and maintenance personnel, cafeteria workers, instructional aides and library aides.

Classified employes of the Amador and Pleasanton districts are represented by Chapter 155 of the California School Employes Association.

Terms of the proposed agreement will be voted upon by the 258 members of the bargaining unit in about a week. School boards of the respective districts would act to ratify at a later date.

Wanda Robison, food services technician and chapter leader, and Betty Boykin, field representative for the CSEA, announced the tenative agreement to terms Wednesday afternoon.

Neither would speculate on what position classified employes might take if there is a walkout of teachers, as has been threatened, in the Amador district on April 14.

Ms. Boykin said CSEA by-laws require calling a meeting to discuss the chapter's "posture" in the event of any walkout by another group of employes in the schools.

Both said the leadership of the chapter would be guided entirely by what the members voted in the wake of any certificated employes strike.

The tentative agreement concludes almost 11 months of negotiations. However, if the contract is not ratified, it would go to impasse proceedings, under terms of collective bargaining law governing public school districts in California.

Ms. Boykin noted that the .6 per cent equalization for Amador employes was necessary— "as these districts here are among the last in the state operating on different salary schedules, two separate school boards but one common administration."

Mrs. Robison said the contract also includes "an improved transfer policy" (no employe can be transferred without his or her consent), transfers and promotions based on seniority when all other factors are equal.

In reference to the latter, Mrs. Robison said the board's stand had been for open competition for jobs with outside (the district) applicants.

In respect to layoffs, Mrs. Robison said agreement was reached to re-open discussions on this as well as salary, fringe benefits and organizational security for 1977-78.

"We accept it (tentative contract agreement) in the spirit of compromise with the hope that by re-opening the talks we will see some improvement," stated Ms. Boykin. "Settlement was preferable to the board taking unilateral action."

Both joined in hoping the community at-large would take a more active interest in matters concerning classified employes. "We are the support system of school districts," Mrs. Robison stated, "yet we have not received a fraction of the recognition of other groups."

The tentative settlement was struck following a meeting of board and CSEA negotiators Wednesday and a marathon session Friday, March 11.

Coed wins award at Livermore Hi

LIVERMORE — Livermore High senior Mary Dickinson of 4221 Las Positas Road has received a $200 award from the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

A reporter for the Livermore High student newspaper, "El Vaquerito," Mary received a check from Cyril Magnin Thursday at a banquet in San Francisco's Fairmont Hotel.

She had written a prize winning essay, "1984: The Ultimate Challenge," stressing the need for individualism in an age of advancing technology. The essay suggested people should learn that a compromise is not always an answer and one must sometimes stand firm for personal beliefs even in the face of opposition. If people can learn to protect their individuality, Mary reasoned, then 1984 will not become a spiritual nightmare.

Her essay was published in the March 11 issue of the school newspaper.

Foothill High scores first academy appointee

David Albert's interest in attending a military academy, nurtured since his sophomore year at Foothill High School, became a reality Tuesday when the 17-year-old senior received word of his appointment to the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo.

An Honor Roll student since his freshman year, with an overall grade point average of 3.6 (b-plus), Albert will report to the Academy June 27.

The first Foothill High School student ever to be nominated or appointed to a service academy, David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Yvan Albert, long-time leaders and boosters of the high school.

David was nominated by Congressman Fortney Stark. Word of his appointment came in a letter from the commandant's office at the Air Force Academy.

He had already been accepted on a Naval Reserve Officers Training Candidate scholarship to Cal Berkeley, as well as to UC Davis and Cal Poly. Albert indicated he would gladly accept the appointment to the academy.

Upon reporting June 27, David will undergo orientation and drills for about three weeks along with his yearling class of approximately 1,500. After that, the first year men will train in an area called Jack's Valley for three weeks. School starts in August.

David's father, a graduate of Boston University, was an Army officer and his mother, Sarah, graduated from Iowa State.

He has a sister, Renee, a sophomore at Foothill who has also achieved Honor Roll status.

New Livermore trustee seated

Lacking the usual diffidence of a new trustee, she looked over nearly $1 million in suggested expenditures and came up with a suggestion of her own — providing a classroom for the Licensed Vocational Nursing class, who have never had their own room.

Sidhu corrected, "It's always been acute."

Croce said a portable building could become available for purchase from the school district with adult school funds.

Sidhu also suggested providing bus service for children who have to walk a distance over dangerous intersections to reach Sunset School and learned that bus route has already been approved.

Jan Brice, the district's second newly elected trustee, joins the board at the April 12 meeting. Sidhu was sworn in earlier because she fills the unexpired term of Ken Engelund, who resigned in December.

Livermore students sweep B of A awards

Livermore High students almost swept the field at a recent Bank of America zone contest, while other Valley students also won cash awards in the prestigious contest.

At the recent elimination contest held in Fremont, four southern Alameda County students — three of them from Livermore — moved one step closer to the $1,000 top cash awards awaiting winners. They were Susan Petoletti in the fine arts field; Roberta Burdick in liberal arts; and Susan Davies for vocational arts. The fourth zone winner, assured of at least a $250 award, was Mark Avon from Washington High School, Fremont.

Those seniors now advance to the regional finals in May. They will compete with other finalists from neighboring areas to win one of four first - place awards of $1,000. Second- and third- place winners at that competition each receive $750 and $500 respectively. All other regional entrants take home $250.

Winners of second place and $100 in the zone event included Laura Hamilton and Benjamin Belzer, both of Granada High School in Livermore, in the fine arts and liberal arts fields respectively; and students from Mission San Jose and American High Schools.

Jori Alexander of Foothill High placed third and received $75 for her achievement in vocational arts while John Pfeifer of Granada placed third in science and math.

Winners are judged on the basis of written compositions followed by a roundtable discussion by the students on subjects related to their study fields.

Public Schools Month begins

With the theme "Public Schools — Learning for Living," the entire month of April this year will be set aside in recognition of California Public Schools Month, State Superintendent of Public Instruction Wilson Riles has announced.

What was once Public Schools Week is now a month - long period of recognition. This change allows more flexibility in scheduling open houses around spring vacation, April 2-9.

"Since 1920, California has observed Public Schools Month. This tradition began and continues under the sponsorship of the Grand Lodge of the Free and Accepted Masons of California," Riles said.

Throughout April schools throughout the Livermore - Amador Valley, and statewide, will open their doors to the public. Residents wishing to know dates of open houses should call their respective school district headquarters or local schools.

Riles said that each school district would determine mutually with its local Masonic Lodge which week or weeks during April to observe the event.

"I would like to see thousands of parents visiting their children's classrooms, discovering, perhaps for the first time, how innovations in education and learning are preparing our children to meet the demands of the future," Riles said.

Trucker love

Carole Wilson of Livermore wrote us this week to enlighten the Valley populace and body politic on trucks and truckers.

"What if no trucks came into Livermore and Pleasanton?" Mrs. Wilson asks. "Where would you get your food, clothing ... you people wouldn't be living in those fancy homes if it weren't for the trucks bringing in materials to build them with."

We agree. Our economy, our society, our American way of life is closely tied to the movement of goods along a vast network of highways and city streets. We can even understand Mrs. Wilson's wrath — "I'm fed up with the way people in this Valley feel towards trucks!" she writes. But we think she misses the mark when she singles out Pleasanton council member Bill Herlihy for her onslaught.

What Councilman Herlihy opposes (as reported in Sunday's Times) is the failure of the four major gravel extractors who have flourished in this Valley for the past century to "come up with any kind of plan for getting all of their trucks off of city streets and onto the freeway where they belong."

The problem is not one of local service, or even a necessary nuisance. Over 2000 truck trips are generated every working day by those pits; virtually all of that traffic originates or terminates out of the Valley ... Oakland, San Jose, or the big freeway construction project in Dublin Canyon. But all of those markets could be reached by freeway, without clogging local routes with those 2000 trucks.

We need and appreciate the trucker, Mrs. Wilson. We don't need the problems generated by an industry which will take two billion dollars out of this soil, and which — after 50 years ought to be prepared to build its own truck route ... due north from Stanley Boulevard to Interstate 580.

And that is a campaign this newspaper has supported for over 20 years.

We're growing

You'll never convince our newspaper carriers that this suburban expanse is not one of continuing growth ... regardless of sewer woes, smog or a slow economy.

A few weeks ago The Times topped the 29,000 mark in total newspaper distribution from San Ramon to Livermore; it won't take too many more weeks before we hit 30,000. Even more happily, our percentage of "paid subscribers" is moving along at a similar clip.

We mention this now because the 382 boys and girls who work as our carriers, and the 22 adults who serve as their advisors, have been building themselves up to a quite a peak lately. They're proud of their job, and their product; they make the rest of us want to work harder to match their enthusiasm.

If you like the service your Times' carrier gives you, please tell that youngster; if you have a complaint about that service, then feel free to tell us .. a call to 443-1105 any business day from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. will get you courteous and prompt response.

Defense of Rhodesia

Editor, The Times:

An article "Visitors tell of Rhodesia", appearing in the Sunday 3-13 Times, has prompted this comment. Not many people care about the fate of that brave little country and it appears Al Fisher, the reporter, doesn't care either.

Unfortunately, it is probably true, with U.S. and English help, that Ndaboningi Sithole, the terrorist leader of one of the three miniscule Zimbabwe African National Union (Z.A.N.U.) movements will be the first Dictator of Rhodesia, and it is also probably true that the whites who remain after the "Liberation" will be placed in labor camps to be "zimbabwefied". This, after all, is a continuation of the United States African policy to support and finance black dictatorships in the name of human rights....

Mr. Fisher's report is quite accurate in that it describes the true position of the zanu movement. They intend to nationalize (the political word for steal) everyone's property for land redistribution The zanu's are land reformers; remember Fidel Castro and Mao Tse-Tung.

1. "Africans oppose Colonial Rule". Rhodesia is an independent republic and has nothing to do with Colonial Rule.

2 "Europeans are so few they cannot even make a cup of tea for themselves". If this were true, who built the beautiful city of Salisbury which the zanu Commissar said "looks like San Francisco".

3. "Zimbabwe movement is fighting for peace and to establish a representative of all the people. They are not looking for a Democratic majority rule ...There are only a few zanu's and they don't represent anything but themselves and teir foreign supporters.

4. "The two had no civil words for Smith". It's no wonder, every time a band of their foreign trained revolutionaries get ready to launch a terror raid into the border area, the loyal black Rhodesians tip off the militia, who courageously strike first and wipe out the terror before it begins. It is true that black and white Rhodesians fight together in the army and they don't like terrorist agitators trying to destroy their country. These people have seen what has happened in Mozambique, Uganda, Angola...

There are at present 15 Military and 23 one-party dictatorship, plus 1 Cuban police state in "Liberated" Africa and they all vote against the United States in the U N.

5. "Who are your friends." a student asked. In a nation where 5,750,000 blacks outnumber the whites 23 to 1, zanu doesn't have very many friends, thats why they are here to beguile Amador Valley High School students into thinking they are a popular movement.

6. "The capitalist system is not feasible for this Country". Rhodesia had more income than expenses before the great embargo...

7. "The Zimbabwe movement won't take Cuban Militery assistance". A true statement, they get Russian assistance...

Rhodesia never had a policy of segregation like South Africa... Rhodesia, both black and white, are a fine Christian people. The whites who settled their country were a pioneer stock, much like the Americans a hundred years ago, before the UN was spawned. And, as in our country, much of the land they pioneered was open and unoccupied when the first settlers started working their way north from South Africa.

The fight for Rhodesia is not over, The Rhodesian Armed Forces, both black and white, are united...

The shame is on the American people who have permitted a misguided foriegn policy to allow Africa to become a haven for dictatorships financed by our Tax Dollars.

FOCUS/Fair parade

Revive it, CofC

The annual parade at County Fair time cannot be allowed to fade away with nary a whimper!

The entertainment committee of the Fair Association Board of Directors last week recommended that they not participate this year, meaning in effect the parade was dead for '77.

But lest we perpetuate a false impression, be assurred the august Fair directors are NOT the ones responsible for axing the parade. It is a combination of circumstances, as reported last week.

It is much the same case as 1976, when the parade was also in danger of extinction. Fair directors would love to see the 42-year old parade continue, but they'd like a responsible civic group or groups to take it over. In 1976 it was the Pleasanton Bicentennial Committee.

No two individuals can do it by themselves— but Leeann McFadden and Nancy D'Arcy gave it one hell of a go!

They are to be saluted for all their past effort.

Ladies, I hope you haven't discarded the outline for a '77 parade yet— until you hear my proposal.

And that is, in brief, that the good gentlemen and ladies of the Pleasanton Chamber of Commerce take the ball and run with it!

We know it's getting late— ONLY three months left before the parade date (June 26) — but if such a venerable institution can be dropped, why not strike the tents for good so we won't have to fret about putting 'em up again next year.

We would suggest that the Chamber leadership— President Bill Hirst and Vice Presidents Joyce Getty and John Weiser — and Secretary Manager Chan Henderson huddle within the next few days, perhaps call in that veteran trivia and parade buff Ben Fernandez (to check over the insurance requirements) and then shape a proposal to take to County Fair directors on or before Tuesday, April 12 (that's when directors next meet).

And, while you're at it, you might call in Leeann and Nancy.Those two ladies have a world of know-how when it comes to parades.

Parades have been under the gun this spring. First the Good Times parade bit the dust, now the decades-old Fair extravaganza.

And "over the hill," word comes that the Hayward Chamber of Commerce has discontinued the 50-year old Hayward Rodeo parade.

But, c'mon gang, there's still time to save ours!

Truckers' pride

Editor, The Times:

I'm writing in response to Councilman Herlihy on his stand about gravel trucks. I'm really fed up with the way people in this Valley feel towards trucks! ... what if no trucks came into Livermore and Pleasanton? Where would you get your food, clothing or new cars ... You think it's easy driving those big rigs around city streets? Try doing it sometime!

I just wish everyone knew what truckers have to go through just to deliver a load; they get a lot of hassles and have to put up with a lot of non - driving dummies on the road who don't know the engine from the rear end!...

Most people are under the impression that truckers make a lot of money for "just sitting behind the wheel and driving", well they don't make a lot of money, they should for all the hell they go through ...

I hope the people of this Valley ... think about what it would be like without trucks. And Councilman Herlihy "I've had it up to here with people like you!"

The best line

Editor: The Times:

Contrary to what you may have readin the papers regarding the Sewage engineers employed byLAVWMA, the least expensive wayto dispose of our sewer plant effluent, is to irrigate public lands and byfarming. This is the solution any reasonable person would employ, if he were given from ten to fifteen daily gallons of water free and complete with fertilizer...

"Cost Effective" is an arbitrary political judgementused by the department of water resources to force the solution the agency had inmind, by granting or withholding state funds. Those of us who must pay the bill cango along or take the whole matter to court...

The state department of water resources has made a "mess" with its Central California Water Project and it has taken a drought to bring it to public attention...

The East Bay Discharger Scheneis one of those"'save a Bay" tactics and our Bremmer Summit pipe is part of it. When you add demineralization of our water supply, the issue is further complicated because there are no grant funds for improving our water supply....

If demineralization of incomingwater is added to the equation, you get a larger total cost but for your money you get better water and long term improvements in the environment...

We are told that the pipe to SuisunBay to export effluent is grant fundable. But we have no assurance that the same pipe to export clean brine from the treatment-plant or from salt wells would be...

Court action will bring tolight the political alignments that make this such an explosive matter in California Water Politics in general and Valley Politics inparticular. Considering the long - term environmental factors and the millions involved in all of this, it seems litigations is a "go-go". JohnB. Fraga, Pleasanton

Students being used

Editor, The Times:

As parents of students at Amador District Scools as well as taxpayers of this community, we strongly protest the actions of the teachers who are encouraging the students to walk out. These teachers are using our children as tools to gain something for themselves.

For years we have been reading about how the schools have trouble with students because of a lack of parental concern or interest. The situation as we see it now is this: We are sending our kids to school and teachers are encouraging them to leave, the parents are therefore unaware of their childrens whereabouts, are they at school as directed by their parents or are they on their way to the district office to picket for the teachers who remain at a school and collect their salary?

We are telling our children to listen to and respect their teachers, now we are faced with the reality of the fact that some teachers are using this respect to undermine our authority as parents. Maybe it is time we as parents quit taking all the blame for the problems of the teen - agers who get into trouble, after all, truency is illegal and it is not the parents who are encouraging it but the educators. If one illegality is okay for the gains of some, why not ignore the law completely? This is the kind of example being given to our students today, do we as parents really want this kind of influence on our children? We say no.

The teachers should settle their contractual dispute with the district themselves. As many employee would with an employer. Letting children do their fighting for them seems unfair and makes one wonder if they are deserving of their demands.

Ever since those two reporters from the Washington Post did their big thing on Watergate — newspaper series, hard cover book, paperback and movie — the world has been waiting for Richard Nixon's rebuttal.

More accurately, Hollywood has been waiting for the Nixon rebuttal.

And now we have the "David Frost interviews with Richard Nixon."

Being taped in top - secret surroundings this month, those interviews will be shown on nation - wide television in the merry month of May. But — like Volume I on Watergate — Mr. Frost's interviews are expected to be just the first step along a multi - million - dollar exposure for "Dick Nixon Speaks!"

The bidding is hot and heavy. First indication of this came from Far Out Studios, where Dick "Dirty Pool" Dangerfield, vice president for profit, was heard to make the following comment:

"We were aced out by Robert Redford and his crowd at United with 'President's Men,' and we lost the re - make rights to 'King Kong', but bygawd Far Out Studios will go to any lengths to get film rights for the Nixon Rebuttal!"

Two other studios, and a new production team of Charlie Finley and Fidel Castro (FINFIDEL Studios) are also preparing to bid for the film rights to David Frost's interview with Nixon. Insiders say it will be the hottest cinema property since Alfred Hitchcock did that hilarious takeoff on The Titanic.

Through some devious newspaper methods I would not care to reveal here (other than to note our plumber is from Angola) we have been able to obtain some of the first tapes of those David Frost interviews with Richard Nixon. The information I am about to reveal is, as you can imagine, startling, shocking, even blasphemous. Those with weak hearts, high morals or strong conservative beliefs are advised to turn to another page.

The first voice we hear on those tapes is that of David Frost, the distinguished TV personality who is of course conducting the exclusive interviews with Mr. Nixon.

FROST — "Now Mr. Nixon, the first thing the American people want to know in the wake of that terrible Watergate scandal is 'Did you or didn't you know in advance about those burglaries?'"

NIXON — "Before we get into that, Mr. Frost, I would like to take this opportunity to say hello to my loyal friends across this great land. Most particularly I would like to be remembered to the good people in San Quentin, Attica, Leavenworth and McNeil Island."

FROST — "Yes, well that's very nice, Mr. Nixon, but now if we can get down to the meat of this interview ... were you and your attorney general in on those 'White House dirty tricks' right from the start?"

NIXON — "Ask me about the milk price fixing thing ... why don't you ask me about milk? Nobody ever wants to ask me about other people's sins!"

FROST — "The American people want to hear about your sins, Mr. Nixon, and if you'll pardon my saying sir (and let's cut this part out of the tape, men) we aren't paying you six hundred thousand bucks just to have you talk about milk prices. Now let's get on with this bloody interview!"

(There is some rapid scratching evident here, the sound an engineer might make while erasing a tape. Then the conversation continues.)

FROST — "We understand you are continuing your fight in the courts to keep the White House tapes from being released to the public. Tell us, Mr. Nixon, is this because you are ashamed of the language on those tapes, or is it true that you hope to sell those tapes someday as the basis for a book, paperback rights and movie, just as John Dean did with his ..."

NIXON — "I'm very glad you asked me about John Dean, Mr. Frost. I have wanted to set the record straight about that man for a long time. If ever there was a turncoat, a crook, a man not to be trusted ..."

FROST — "Are you then prepared to deny right here and now all that John Dean says in his book?" Frost demands.

Nixon — "Deny it? Hell no, Mr. Frost, it's not Dean's memory that I challenge. But the (expletive deleted) guy promised me faithfully that he would not release his book until Mitchell, Halderman and the rest of us good old boys had a chance to get our own memoires into print. After all, every one of us has heavy expenses these days and it was damned unfair of Dean to get the jump with his lecture tours and ..."

FROST — "Thank you Mr. Nixon. And now, before we return to our exciting Nixon Rebuttal, let's pause for this word from our sponsors..."

Zackeim

Memorial services were held last week for Monte Vista High School principal Sam Zackheim, who died March 21 after a batte with cancer.

By now, the big superintendent in the sky has probably picked up an earful from the most gregarious educator to ever shake up a school board.

It'll be calmer in the conference room from now on because no one was stubborn and cantankerous quite like Sam. There'll be more sadness, too, because he pumped life into a profession filled with faceless administrators who specialize in obfuscation.

You knew where you stood with Sam. Often it was on the other side of the fence. But when the smoke cleared you had to admire him. He was a battler — and a shrewd one. He could fight armed with little or no factual information, sometimes even with false information. You were a fool to bet against him.

A 20-minute session could last hours when Sam began to filibuster. He could grind down the opposition ad mesmerize the folks in the gallery.

His problem was too much flamboyance. It was wasted in education. What a television personality he could have been, though.

Sam Zackheim was Jewish. Only grudgingly would he forgive those who weren't.

You could play checkers on the patterns of his suits, read the wrinkles in that unforgettable face like a road map. It was etched in a perpetual smirk, which prompted one of two reactions. You wanted to tweak his cheek or punch his nose. He was too ornery for the former, but too damn loveable for the latter.

More than anything else, Sam loved the limelight. He warmed to an audience. When reporters came near he posed the same questions. "You got a pencil? You taking good notes? "

It was easy when "Go Get Em Sam" was orating. A newsman's problem was boiling down the Zackheim repartee. All of it was good copy. And underneath the veneer there was conviction because Sam was a good educator. He fought for his kids and his teachers. So he couldn't master the 12-syllable words with empty meanings, and he often put his neck in the noose when colleagues found it safer to cower behind a desk.

At least we knew he was in there scrapping for an extra buck or another classroom.

There was a junior varsity basketball game played at Monte Vista High three years ago. A few parents were scattered throughout the gymnasium while the school team was getting clobbered. Late in the contest a referee blew his whistle against one of the Monte Vista players. The player howled. The coach bellowed. Sam came rumbling down from the top rung of bleachers and unleased a nose-to-nose barrage at the unsuspecting official.

It was out of line, but typical for an unorthodox educator who couldn't stand to see his side picked on.

He was a charmer, a fighter and he could be enfuriating. But to dwell on the mercurial personality doesn't get to the root of Sam Zackheim. He used the magnetism to throw the rest of us off guard.

Behind the facade he was just a ard working guy wh helped teach kids.

For 10 years from the 1950's to 60's, he was the Los Angeles chairman for the March of Dimes. He was a recipient of the Freedom Foundation Award. This may stun that poor basketball referee, but he was also president of the Southern California Officials Association.

Though Sam talked a lot, he seldom mentioned those fine deeds. That was a very real part of the Zackheim character too.

Dr. Joyce Brothers

DEAR DR. BROTHERS: I'm shocked at the number of pregnancies in the high schools where I teach and the flagrant sex among youngsters who are so emotionally and intellectually immature they should be carrying teddy bears instead of books. I blame the parents more than the children. They complain furiously when their daughters become pregnant but they encourage their children into sex by throwing parties where alcohol is served. They get so drunk themselves they are unable to provide guidance. Most of the parents are educated, well off and successful but they don't provide any moral guidance. They think they're smart and forever young if they allow total freedom with no restraints. — T.F.

DEAR T.F.: There's a lot to support your views, a good deal of it coming from the youngsters themselves.

Some authorities feel that one of the reasons off-beat religious groups have such strong appeal is they offer a relief from the total permissiveness many of these youngsters have known. The new gurus usually insist on a rather rigid code of behavior. They set guidelines that may in themselves be of dubious value, but still provide a needed structure and framework. Too much freedom can mean too much responsibility and too heavy a burden for a troubled adolescent.

He may rebel by taking drugs or by joining some fanatical group that represents a large, highly ordered family.

Discipline can mean freedom and love, but unfortunately, some parents forget this.

Most teens can't cope with sexuality if there are no restrictions. The rising number of cases of venereal disease, pregnancies and abortions all indicate that the consequences of complete freedom can be disastrous and very damaging to the young.

DEAR DR. BROTHERS: I've had three accidents over the past six months and I'm beginning to worry about this frequency. The first time, I fell from a chair I was standing on, next while driving I smashed a fender, then I broke my arm when I tripped and fell in my yard. So far, I've been lucky that none of these accidents has left me in too bad a shape, but I don't want anymore. Am I just clumsy? — W.H.

DEAR W.H.: Check with your doctor to be sure there's been no marked physical change since you started having these accidents. If there's been no change, try to remember what your mood was before the accidents occurred. Often, people become careless when they're depressed or anxious. Usually, the person isn't paying attention, or he's thinking about something else. People who are lonely, bored, frustrated, frightened, or in some mental conflict are much more apt to have accidents than those who are not. Sometimes a specific worry precedes an accident. The individual may not allow this anxiety to come into his conscious mind. He or she may bury the problem preferring not to face it.

Accidents may be a cry for attention, or a way of avoiding something the person has to but doesn't want to do. The person who doesn't want to take a trip may have an "accident" that prevents him from having to make the journey. The person who wants and needs a vacation may have an "accident" that forces him to stay home from work and rest.

Accidents aren't usually conscious or deliberate but often they are not totally accidental. They are both attention-getting and self-punishing. The person who is suffering from some guilt, usually oe that has not been brought out into the open, may have an accident as a form of self-punishment. Examine each accident. Was it truly accidental?

Treatment of osteoporosis

DEAR DR. LAMB — Can taking estrogen help prevent osteoporosis or dowager's hump? I am 50 and recently had a laminectomy. My orthopedic surgeon strongly urged me to continue the estrogen — I've been taking (Premarin) for the past couple of years — as my chance of getting osteoporosis was 10 times greater than getting cervical cancer.

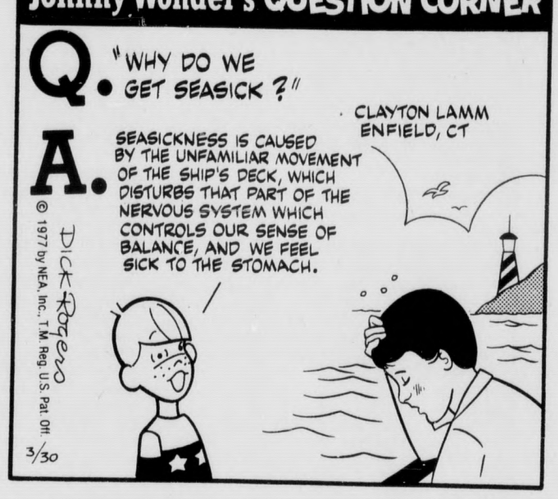
My gynecologist, on the other hand, has just advised me to stop taking estrogen because he is not sure I am menopausal at all and wants to wait and see. He claims there is no connection between taking estrogen and prevention of osteoporosis. Now what do I do?

DEAR READER — I seem to get more mail these days pointing out the type of dilemma you have gotten into. It is a symptom of patients seeing different specialists and not having a family doctor. My first recommendation is to get a good family doctor who can be in charge of all aspects of your care and refer you to specialists as needed.

The value of estrogen in preventing or treating osteoporosis — dissolving bones — is hotly debated by different highly competent investigators. Some, including gynecologists, of national reputation believe it is useful in treating osteoporosis when it occurs. It is apparently not useful unless a woman really has a deficiency of female hormones. Many women still form appreciable amounts of female hormones after the ovaries quit. These come from the outer shell of the adrenal gland (adrenal cortex). I am sure your gynecologist wants to find out if you are deficient in female hormones and if you need any hormone replacement. If you don't, it may not help much.

I might add that cancer of the uterus is much more serious than the more common osteoporosis. Recent studies do show that estrogen may delay osteoporosis but may be less effective in treating established osteoporosis. A new hormone, not estrogen, called methandrostenolone (Dianabol by Ciba) has been reported not only to stop bone loss but increase the amount of bone tissue. If other studies confirm this, it may be useful in treating osteoporosis.

Johnny Wonder's QUESTION CORNER



Q. "WHY DO WE GET SEASICK?"
A. SEASICKNESS IS CAUSED BY THE UNFAMILIAR MOVEMENT OF THE SHIP'S DECK, WHICH DISTURBS THAT PART OF THE NERVOUS SYSTEM WHICH CONTROLS OUR SENSE OF BALANCE, AND WE FEEL SICK TO THE STOMACH.

Seasickness is a disagreeable illness that some people get while traveling on a ship.

Perhaps a better word for seasickness might be "motion sickness," for many doctors think we become seasick because of the motion of the ship, as it rises and falls as it travels across a rough sea.

In our normal activities, special little tubes inside our ears, called the semicircular canals, help us to keep our balance as we move about.

But the unfamiliar rolling and pitching of the ship's deck disturbs our balance and upsets the little balancing tubes by too much movement, and we may soon begin to feel dizzy and sick to our stomach.

Seasickness isn't the only kind of motion sickness. Some people get car sickness, or airsickness while flying in "bumpy" air.

People who become motion-sick easily often take special medicines before traveling to prevent motion sickness.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

There is one Blackwood rule that is more important than any other single rule for Blackwood users.

That rule is that you never use Blackwood unless you intend to bid six if your partner's response shows that your side has three aces.

A corollary to this rule is that you don't use Blackwood when you have a worthless doubleton in a suit that your side has not bid.

South has a mighty good hand after his partner jumps to four spades. He feels that he is too strong to settle for a safe four spades and invites a slam by bidding five clubs.

North accepts the slam invitation by bidding five diamonds but South, like Ado Annie in "Oklahoma," has gone as far as he can go and bids just five spades.

North would go on to six if he could handle the second heart lead, but he can't and doesn't.

The play is simple. West takes two heart tricks and South takes the rest.

Akins Glad Ugly Is Beautiful Now

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "The uglies are in," proclaims a happy Claude Akins on the start of his CBS mini-series, "Nashville 99," which premieres Friday night at 9 p.m. on Channels 5 and 10.

The April Fool's Day beginning made him suspect that someone was trying to tell him something. But that was only a temporary misgiving for an actor who once seemed destined to play heavies for the duration of his career.

"Now I'm convinced that we ugly guys are taking over," says Akins. "Look at Telly Savalas. Look at Robert Blake. Jack Palance had his own series, and Lee Marvin and Charles Bronson are doing okay in films."

Claude Akins is by no means ugly. But his plain, beefy face and 6-foot-2, 200-pound frame made him ideal as a tough, often villainous character in 49 movies and 260 television shows since his 1952 debut in "From Here to Eternity."

He tried to break out of the mold through television.

"I think I've had more unsold pilots than any other actor in Hollywood," he commented ruefully. The failed series included a spinoff of "Bonanza," a marine saga in the Central American wars, a Coast Guard story.

One of the series sold: "Movin' On," a trucking tale that lasted two seasons on NBC and turned Akins' life around.

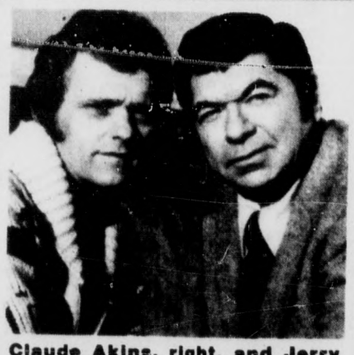
"For years people recognized me anywhere I went, even though they weren't quite sure who I was," he recalled. "When 'Movin' On' went on the air, the public overnight put the name to the face.

It was gratifying, but I wasn't sorry about all those years of playing heavies. I always made a good living. During the Hollywood years I had only one bad year. I appeared in the first movie for television, 'The Killers,' and two other films, that's all. But the following year brought 44 weeks of pure salary.

"Maybe it's better that it didn't happen until I was older. I can handle it now."

He is cool about the crapshoot that he faces with "Nashville 99." The series will replace Sonny and Cher on CBS but only for four shows. That's hardly enough time for the series to prove (or disprove) itself before the network lays out its fall schedule.

But, says Akins, "I think the series has a good chance."



Claude Akins, right, and Jerry Reed are the stars of the new action - suspense series "Nashville 99" premiering Friday night at 9 p.m. on Channels 5 and 10 for a four - week tryout

Residents win long zoning battle

By GAY LEE EDGAR
Times Staff Writer

SAN RAMON — The story of David slaying Goliath is similar to the quiet victory won by the Sycamore Homes Association over the county planning commission, and The DiGiorgio Development Corporation.

The homeowners did not use a slingshot to quell the giants, they used something called Condition 5.

It all started in 1965 when the Board of Supervisors approved rezoning of the Sycamore area from residential to planned unit development. A 10-acre piece of land at the northeast corner of Old Orchard Drive and Sycamore Valley Road was destined to become a neighborhood shopping center.

Two conditions were included in the approval of the shopping area. One was that homes should be built before the shopping center was begun.

The other, Condition 5, called for a market analysis to determine the need for a center. If no need was established, the land was to revert to single-family zoning. Developers were given four years to prepare the market analysis.

Letters flew back and forth between the Homeowners Association, the county planning department, and the DiGiorgio Development Corporation.

The main complaint from Sycamore residents was that developers had failed to submit the analysis within the four years required, and therefore had not met the terms of Condition 5.

The planning department, in a 1974 letter to the developer, said the required market analysis was filed two years late, and that there was no record of an earlier market analysis.

James D. Graham, former president of DiGiorgio Development Company, past manager of the land development division of Filper Corporation, and presently of J.D. Graham & Associates, development consultants, replied on behalf of the developers. His letter (to the planning department) said an extension of time for the market analysis was requested, but that no written record was found. The corporation went ahead with a survey "on the basis of a verbal understanding with the county," Graham said.

But Sycamore Homeowners questioned whether oral agreements could supersede a written contract, according to the group's president, Marty Douglas.

The final letter arrived last week from Anthony Dehaesus, director of planning.

"I have reviewed the files in this matter completely. I find that Condition 5 has not been met."

And so the property has reverted to single-family zoning. "We are delighted with the planning department's decision," said Douglas. "We felt our request that Condition 5 be met was reasonable."

Ghost towns and maps are his bag

By GAY LEE EDGAR
Times Staff Writer

DANVILLE — Arthur Lassagne has tramped around the West for years, poking and scrounging in dumps.

He's probably the only mailman in the area listed in Who's Who, but it's not mail that's his bag, it's gold mines, ghost towns and maps.

"There's magic in the gold rush era," says Lassagne, "It's like no other time." Wherever people lived, even for a short time, there were always dumps left behind. And some of those dumps yield treasure, he explains.

He's found old bottles, valued by collectors, Indian arrowheads, and his wife Marilyn once found some rubies. He's never found gold, just empty mines — and dumps.

During his tramping, usually with his wife and children, Lassagne often heard of abandoned towns and mines. But he couldn't always find them. So he started collecting maps. He searched old bookstores and sent away for government maps.

Now he has at least 400 original maps showing locations of abandoned mines, and sites of camps and towns, some still populated.

He usually gave reproductions to friends who admired his maps. One thing led to another until he now publishes reproductions for sale. He's also published several booklets listing ghost towns and gold areas. His publication company is called Gold Bug Books. He has even published a booklet telling people how to obtain — and read — government maps, which are usually free if you know where to write.

But it's ghost towns that really interest Lassagne. "Most of them are not the movie set version you might think. Sometimes there's just a piece of wall left from a building where people used to live," he explains.

Among his oldest maps is one of the Western United States, circa 1865. He says most maps are sold to people who are nostalgic about the gold rush era. Other maps are for people who like to explore such fabled areas.

Lassagne hasn't always been a map seller. He was once an accountant, and is now a Walnut Creek mailman. He was listed in Who's Who in the West, and Who's Who in Finance and Industry, but he says he really doesn't know why.

The Lassagnes have done their own printing, and Mrs. Lassagne does the artwork for their booklets.

Besides old maps and ghost towns, Lassagne has written and published other booklets on subjects ranging from earthquakes to flea markets. His latest venture is solar heat for homes, and he intends to begin a newsletter about solar energy.

Shappel tract rejected

MARTINEZ — County planning commissioners have denied a request by Shappel Industries for a 349-lot subdivision in the San Ramon area.

The denial came Tuesday night after a public hearing on the project that drew a number of San Ramon Valley residents in opposition to the subdivision.

It was to be located just east of Interstate 680 and 200 feet north of Montevideo Drive.

Most witnesses took issue with the lack of open space in the project, which was virutally non-existent except for a 10-acre lot set aside for possible construction of a school later on.

Planning Director Anthony Dehaesus said the previous owner of the property, Western Electric Co., had drafted a tentative land use plan for the area that set aside a portion for open space, but that Shappell Industries didn't follow the plan.

Commissioners also expressed their disapproval of portions of the plan, including its close proximity to the freeway and poor lot layouts.

Shappell has 15 days to appeal the denial.

The Planning Commission however, did approve a tentative subdivision map to put 177 lots on 102 acres southeast of the intersection of Crow Canyon Road and Alcosta Boulevard in the San Ramon area.

The commission placed 32 conditions on the project, including possible construction of an elementary school on the site and undergrounding of all utilities.

Red tape jams up transport members said they wanted to take care of. Now, the service is provided only as far south as Crow Canyon Road. Committee member Dorothy Kerr was made chairman of the group that will try to get the service expanded.

"Right now there's a gentleman who needs Meals on Wheels at Sunny Glen in San Ramon but he can't get it," Flores said.

Helen Ballock said the Meals on Wheels program primarily operated on a volunteer basis. She works for the central office on aging in Concord.

"What is needed is a corps of volunteers from the San Ramon area to travel to a meeting point at Crow Canyon Road then bring the meals back to this area.

Motel to expand?

Alameda County Bureau

HAYWARD — Owners of the Howard Johnson's Motor Lodge in Dublin will petition the county zoning administrator for a 48-unit expansion this month.

Motor Lodge Associates needs a conditional use permit to add to their existing 92-unit complex. They also have applied for an additional 48 parking spaces.

The land is zoned for highway frontage and retail business use.

County zoning administrator Dick Flynn said he had not yet seen the plans and could not offer a preliminary evaluation.

The hearing will be held at 1:30 p.m., April 13, at the county Public Works Building, 399 Elmhurst St., Hayward.

Brighter days for the EBAL

On Sports

East Bay Athletic League track athletes should find themselves among the East Bay Area's finest performers this season.

While the EBAL had taken its lumps in North Coast Section playoff competition in football and basketball, track offers a completely different picture.

The EBAL has some of the finest individuals in the East Bay and possibly the entire Bay Area.

Possibly the most outstanding of these athletes is Dublin High's Chuck Gangnuss, defending North Coast Section champion in the 120-yard high hurdles.

Chuck had a best of 14.2 in the highs last season and should equal or better the 14.0 mark this year. He is also a fine low hurdler and sprinter. Gangnuss should be the first male EBAL athlete to make the state finals in two years. The last male athlete from the EBAL to place at the state meet was Roy Kissin of San Ramon, who finished third in the two-mile in 1975. Gangnuss could place in both the highs and the lows.

Chuck Gangnuss

Another outstanding EBAL athlete is Phil Wiltz of San Ramon. Wiltz leaped 45-8 in the triple jump Tuesday and should exceed the 47-foot mark before the season is over.

On the girls' side the picture is even brighter.

Granada has always had one of the top girls' teams in the East Bay and this year's addition should be no exception.

Kathy Honour of the Matadors is an outstanding long jumper and hurdler and stands an excellent chance of making the state meet. She narrowly missed the state meet at Berkeley last year in the long jump.

Another top individual is Paula Ng of livermore, who is a near-cinch to make the state meet unless she falls victim to an injury as she did last season.

Ng is one of the finest girl prep long jumpers in the state. She placed in the Examiner Games at the Cow Palace against open competition, which included many older, veteran athletes. She is also an excellent sprinter and hurdler.

She should find the high school season to her liking this year.

Since the EBAL's representatives in football and basketball were eliminated in the first round of NCS action this season many East Bay Area sports writers had rapped the EBAL as a "weak league."

One writer even went so far as to say because of the fact EBAL co-champions Livermore and Granada were beaten in the 4-A football semi-finals no EBAL team shoul have been ranked in the East Bay's top 10.

It's probably true that the EBAL's champions in basketball and football were not as good as the champions of the NCS's other 4-A leagues this year.

However, the league races in both sports were competitive with the championship in doubt down to the last game. Any one of three or four teams could have won the EBAL football title last season and that's more than you can say about the Oakland Athletic League or the Richmond-Berkeley League.

Pinole Valley of the RBL has won the NCS football crown the past two seasons, but except for Berkeley and Kennedy of Richmond, the rest of the RBAL teams were not nearly as competitive as the teams in the EBAL.

But in the end winning the big prize (such as the sectional championship or state meet berths) is all that counts in the eyes of some sportswriters.

The EBAL wasn't able to accomplish that in football or basketball but it should be a different story at UCLA in early June when the California State High School track championships will be held.

Then maybe the EBAL will get its due.

Rascano silences AV batters

DANVILLE — Mitch Rascano pitched consistent ball all the way as San Ramon High's baseball team remained undefeated in East Bay Athletic League competition by beating visting Amador Valley, 3-1 yesterday afternoon.

The game was billed as a match - up between Rascano and the Dons' ace, Rob Wicks. Both pitchers came through with tough performances despite the fact Wicks was tagged for nine hits.

The Amador ace walked none and fanned four batters in going the distance. Rascano also went the distance, giving up but four hits, walking one and striking out seven batters.

Amador Valley, now 2-2 in EBAL action, must come on strong after the Easter break if it is to make a repeat appearance in the North Coast Section playoffs. They trail league - leading Monte Vista by two games.

The game was scoreless for three innings before the Wolves scored the initial run in the fourth after two were out.

After Rascano grounded out and second baseman John Arnaudon flied to left Tim Rosgen and Charlie Brice each singled. Center fielder Rick Binns then popped a high fly which fell between left and center field, scoring Rosgen with the first run.

The Wolves added two more runs in the next inning.

Rick Hansen and left fielder Joe Pappalardo each singled and Greg Bishop brought them home with a booming single into center field. However, Rascano hit into a double play and the threat ended.

Amador Valley threw a brief scare into the Wolves in the sixth inning.

After George Ellard and Gene Stanley struck out to open the inning Wicks smashed a double down the left field line, his second of the day. Designated hitter Glen Hill then pounded a single to bring in Wicks with the Dons' only run.

The Dons' only other threat of the contest came in the fourth inning when Wicks opened the inning with his first double but Rascano got the next three batters to fly out to end the inning.

Rosgen had a perfect day at the plate, belting three hits in three trips to the plate and scoring once. Bishop added two hits for the Wolves.

Amador Valley coach Don Bush was naturally displeased with the loss.

"We just hit poorly," he sighed. "We wern't hitting up there at the plate, just swinging.

"I don't think he's (Rascano) that good of a pitcher," Bush went on. "We just made him look good."

Regardless, Rascano is now 2-0 in league play while Wicks is 0-2. The Wolves are 3-0 in EBAL action.

Gael rally fails, MV wins

The chances of Dublin High's baseball team erasing a 4-0 Monte Vista lead right after their manager and starting pitcher had been thrown out of the game were putrid at best.

But such circumstances are where legends have been made.

The Gaels hardly committed a legendary act, but nevertheless battled back and at one point had the bases loaded with nobody out and the tying run at third before a gutty relief performance form Monte Vista's Brad Miller savored a 5-3 win for the Mustangs yesterday in Dublin.

The 'Stangs thus move into the Easter break with a perfect 4-0 East Bay Athletic League ledger, while the Gaels slipped to 1-3.

Dublin broke a scoreless string of 19 innings when they struck for three runs in the sixth inning to cut the MV lead to 4-3.

Tony Schiebli began the rally with a solid single up the middle off of MV hurler Craig Robinson, who had been sailing along on a one - hitter up to that point.

John Downing followed with another stinging base hit and Sean Mays poked a short infield roller to load the bags.

Pinch - hitter Mike Hardy broke the long Dublin cold spell by driving in Schiebli with an infield hit in the hole at shortstop, the bags remaining full.

The Mustangs then committed two crucial errors in succession to all but kiss the game away, or so it seemed.

After the Gael' Mike Hardy and Mark Martin both reached base on infield errors by the MV, making the score 4-3, coach George Cockerton brought in Miller in relief of the hard - luck Robinson with still nobody out.

Miller began his work by striking out Lane Boespflug. Monte Vista then received one of their biggest breaks of the day on a foiled suicide squeeze play by the Gaels.

Dublin's Hack was running for home with Paul Gordon up at bat as Miller was releasing, but Gordon never squared around to bunt and Hack was out at home plate.

Gordon later walked, which would have forced in the tying run but instead loaded the bases again. Miller ended the long inning by fanning Doug Rader, the ninth man to bat in the stanza.

Monte Vista added an insurance run in the seventh on a walk to Kevin Jones, Miller's single, another single by Steve Jayko and a walk to George Cockerton.

In the fifth, Robinson led off with a walk for MV, went to second on an overthrown pickoff attempt, was wild pitched to third and scored on a Bisbee base hit.

The Gaels played most of the game without manager Tom Mullican, who was thrown out by the unpire in the second inning.

Dublin starting pitcher Bob Richardson was tossed out of the contest in the sixth for questioning a called third strike.

Relievers Gary Reshes and John Downing came on in the sixth and seventh and gave up one run apiece to the Mustangs.

MV depth too much for Cal

DANVILLE — Taking advantage of their superior depth the Monte Vista Mustangs defeated California High, 77-58 here yesterday afternoon in an East Bay Athletic League track meet.

However, the California girls edged Monte Vista 50-47. Monte Vista topped California 69-66 in the frosh - soph match.

Willie Huff was a bright spot for California in the varsity competition, taking the 100 in 10.4 and finishing second in the 220.

Jeff Montrand was another California star as he won the mile in 4:54.4 and the two - mile in 10:15.5.

Brad Curry of Monte Vista, one of the East Bay's top half - milers, won his favorite event in a fine 2:02.0. He also ran a strong leg on the mile relay team which won in 3:46.2 and won the high jump with a 5-8 leap. He also won the long jump with a 20-8 effort.

Glad netters dump CC, 9-0

With inspiration from three crushing doubles victories, the Chabot College tennis team swept to a 9-0 thrashing of Contra Costa two days ago.

Contra Costa managed to win just six games in the entire doubles competition, as the Gladiators, now boasting an 8-5 record, simply overpowered the non - league foe.

Ron Lapp and Mark Warrender had the hardest time getting a doubles win, taking their match 6-4, 6-1. Glenn Texeira and Dan Kristal combined for a 6-1, 6-0 victory while the team of Jeff Oliphant and Lance Lanese registered a shutout in its encounter.

With the exception of Lanese, every doubles player picked up a win in singles competition, and Jay Riddell rounded out the victory string for Chabot by taking the number five singles match.

Chabot travels to San Mateo today to take on the Bulldogs in Golden Gate Conference play.

NFL approves teams' switch

PHOENIX — The National Football League officially placed the Seattle Seahawks in the American Conference West Thursday and established its roster cutdown dates for the 1977 season.

The Associated Press reported Wednesday that the proposal would be made by Herman Sarkowsky, managing partner of the Seahawks. It was passed by unanimous voice vote of the 28 club owners.

"We appreciate the suggestion of The Associated Press," NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle said. "I think it's a very logical thing to do. The fans will become accustomed to seeing Seattle as well as Tampa Bay in the standings where they'll be for the future."

Another proposal, to install a cut to 40 players, then later allow the addition of three to the regular - season total of 43, was voted down by a 12-15 vote with one abstention. That plan would have forced all teams to cut some players they might have kept — and given the weaker ones the opportunity to sign some players they now will not get a chance to sign.

Jim Kensil, executive director of the league, also said the cut - down dates apply only to the 1977 season "because the teams want to take a closer look at the numbers and see how they might apply to 1978," when the league shifts from six exhibition games and 14 in the regular season to four pre - season and 16 regular - season games.

The NFL also set Thursday, Sept. 15, at 4 p.m., EST, as the time each team must notify the league office of which players it is placing on its two - man inactive squad often known as a taxi squad. Those two are in addition to the 43-man active roster. They can come from the active squad in which case the team can replace them on that list or they can come from available free agents around the league.

There can be unlimited movement of players from the inactive squad to the active squad and the other way areound, up to an hour prior to a regular - season or playoff game. But a team may not sign a free agent within two days of an upcoming game.

As in the past, the league decided Thursday that if a player is placed on the injured reserve list, he may not return to the same club for the remainder of the season, although he could be dealt or waived to another team, which could use him.

Grizzly nine edges Falcons

Long ago and far away, they used to call baseball players the Boys of Summer.

Yesterday at Foothill High School, thermal underwear should have been a required safety feature right along with batting helmets and cups as California High School fought off the elements and the Foothill Falcons for a 1-0 East Bay Athletic League victory.

With the wind howling across the Falcons' hillside diamond like the harbinger of a blizzard, the Grizzlies were no doubt once again lamenting the fact that their home field in San Ramon is incomplete.

With a pair of fine pitching performances and the weather severely limited both team's offenses, neither could get anything going and the contest was decided via a hitless rally in the bottom of inning one.

Designated hitter Bret Cary led off with a curling line drive single to shallow left and reached second one out later when first baseman Pat Driver hit him in the back with a throw attempting to cut down the lead runner on brother Chuck's grounder.

Tracy Nodlinski then blasted a major league pop up out behind second. Three players looked into the swirling skies and called for the ball, shortstop Sam Sisneroz taking over at the last moment only to watch the ball plop out of his glove to load the bases.

Only three Falcons got as far as third base.

In the third inning, back - to - back - to - back singles by Pat Geck, Sisneroz and Danny Wilks — the only hits for Foothill — got Sisneroz to third, but a fine relay play from Chuck Cary to Mike Daugherty to Roger Hurlow had cut down Geck trying to score on an earlier play and effectively killed the rally.

In the fifth, Barry Kortan walked and Dave Gerard, acting as a pinch - runner, got to third on a sacrifice by Keith Suer and a grounder to second base by Geck.

Larry Walters shutout was his first victory of the EBAL season. He accomplished it by holding Foothill to just the three hits in the third and three walks while striking out five.

Foothill's Mike Krikorian — no he's not related to the Amador Valley pitcher of the same name — gave up five hits and a walk while striking out four, only to lose on the unearned run.

Foothill's next action comes in the Verl Thornock tournament at Arroyo High School tomorrow, when the Falcons face Oakland at 9 a.m.

Warriors top Spurs, meet Portland tonight

OAKLAND — There may be five games left on the schedule, but a lot of the suspense could be taken out of the Pacific Division race when the Golden State Warriors meet the Portland Trail Blazers tonight in Portland.

Last night, the Warriors crept to within a game of Portland, in fourth place in the NBA Western Conference playoff picture and second in the division, with a 125-116 win over the San Antonio Spurs at the Coliseum Arena.

In recent weeks Golden State has been the most unpredictable club in a league that drives bettors crazy. But last night there was none of the usual dominence or despair.

The Warriors grabbed the advantage after six minutes on a Jamaal Wilkes tip-in and maintained it the rest of the way, never ahead by more than 15 or less than two.

Rick Barry came alive in the second half to lead the Warriors with 35 points hile Wilkes added 24. Clifford Ray exploded for a season-high 23, many coming on his version of the Unbelievably Terrifying King Kong Gorilla Stuff.

George Gervin, San Antonio's 6-7 guard led the losers with 28 points while San Jose State grad Coby Dretrick added 20.

The Warrior-Trail Blazer game can be seen tonight on Channel 2.

Away from the court, there were a couple of significant developments.

Yesterday morning, Derrek Dickey underwent surgery to remove a bone chip from his right ankle at Peralta Hospital. Already written off for the season, Dickey was expected to be released today and will remain in a cast for four weeks.

Before the game, the Warriors announced plans for the sale of tickets for the first round of the NBA playoffs.

Public sale will begin Monday April 11 at 10 a.m. in three Bav Area locations — the Coliseum Box Office, Downtown Center Box Office in San Francisco and Carroll & Bishop in San Jose.

Only tickets in the $8 catogory will be available and there is a limit of two per customer.

Warrior season ticket holders have already been mailed applications for the tickets to the series which will begin April 12 or 13.

Indians smash A's

TUCSON, Ariz. — Rookie outfielder Jim Norris slapped four hits to lead the Cleveland Indians to an 8-1 victory over the Oakland A's in a Cactus League exhibition game Thursday.

The Indians got strong pitching from Dennis Eckersley, exploded for three runs in the fifth and never were headed. The big hit of the uprising was Norris' second single.

The rookie outfielder, who was notified 24 hours earlier that he had made the 25-man roster, celebrated by tripling in the first inning and slapped three singles in five at-bats.

Now Norris is hitting .403 on 25 hits in 62 at-bats. He is the Indians' probable right fielder in the opener at Boston next Thursday.

Eckersley, who will pitch the opener against the Red Sox, struck out seven, scattered five hits and yielded one run in six innings. Don Hood blanked the A's the final three frames on a yield of four hits.

Dons beat Mats, stay undefeated

It's going to be a long season for Granada High's track team, who knocked heads with title - seeking Amador Valley yesterday in Pleasanton.

The Mats entered the meet with two key performers sick, while the Dons capitalized with a bundle of first place victories to take an 81-55 win to remain unbeaten in East Bay Athletic League action.

The excellent Amador mile relay team clocked a fair 3:36.0 and the 400 relay team finished in a less - than - spectacular 45.8, but the Dons won both events and really piled up the points in the field events.

Howard Harrow, Ernie Zumbach and Chuck Grandon led a Dons sweep in the shot put while Eric Larson, along with Zumbach and Grandon keyed a 1-2-3 swipe of the discus. Harrow went 49-1 in the shot while Larson tossed the discus 157 feet even.

Jim Beigel won the 120 high hurdles in a swift 15.4 clocking, while Huntze also won the 440 in 52.1

Granada's Jay Littlepage leaped 6-2 3/4 in the high jump, clearing it by well over an inch, while Jeff Cowling and Hunter finished 1-2 in the mile, switching positions in the 2-mile as Hunter finished in 10:07.2.

The Mats ran without the services of middle - distance man Andy Heath, but the Dons' depth in the event (they took all three places) was too much to overcome. Joel Strickland won the 220 for the Mats, while Brian McSaherry leaped 12-1 in the pole vault.

Bean leads Open

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Big Andy Bean, a sometimes alligator - wrestler who scored a wire - to - wire victory three weeks ago in Miami, fought gusty winds for a five-underpar 67 and a one-stroke lead Thursday in the first round of the $235,000 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament.

The 6-foot-4 Bean led every round on the way to the first victory of his career at the Doral Open March 13, his 24th birthday.

Bean gained a reputation as an alligator - wrestler after flipping a six-foot reptile into a pond during the course of a round a couple of years ago. He plucked the ball out of the cup on the final hole at Doral and happily threw it far into the lake. He threw it so hard he popped something in his shoulder, missed the cut in his next start and then took a week off to rest.

Brewers edge Giants

SUN CITY, Ariz. (AP) — Ken McMullen's pinch homer capped a five-run seventh - inning spree that gave the Milwaukee Brewers a 9-8 exhibition baseball victory over the San Francisco Giants Thursday.

McMullen, a veteran signed as a free agent after being released by the Oakland A's, stroked a three-run blast off losing pitcher Gary Lavelle.

The Brewers were leading 4-2 in the sixth when Bill Madlock tied it on a two-run homer off Jerry Augustine, and then the Giants took a 5-4 lead on a runscoring single by Vic Harris.

The Giants added another run on Madlock's single in the seventh before the Brewers rallied.

After Robin Yount was safe on an error and Cecil Cooper walked, Sixto Lezcano hit a wind - aided double that scored one run. Don Money's single sent Cooper home with the tying run, setting the stage for McMullen's homer.

Yount also homered for the Brewers, and Jack Clark and Tom Heintzelman had roundtrippers for San Francisco. Lezcano and Cooper had two doubles apiece.

'Quakes finish practice season

PORTLAND, Ore. — The San Jose Eartquakes, with two new players on the way from Europe, close out their 1977 exhibition season in a mini - tournament with the Portland Timbers, Vancouver Whitecaps and Toronto Metros at Multnomah Stadium tomorrow night at 7:30 p.m.

After setting a Spartan Stadium pre-season attendance record of 16,237 in last Saturday's 3-0 win over the Chicago Sting, San Jose announced the acquisition of defender Ian Wood and winger Vlade Zabarac.

Neither will be in uniform tomorrow night and Wood, a 10-year veteran of Oldham of the English second division will miss the regular season opener with Los Angeles at home next week.

Wood was the captain of the Oldham club. Now 29, he played with the Denver Dynamos in 1974 before the team moved to Minnesota and became the Kicks, but missed most of the season with a shoulder injury.

Zabarac is capable of playing on either side of the forward line and will come to the 'Quakes from Radnicki of Yugoslavia, where the 30-year old is an aquaintance of San Jose defender Miro Pavlovic.

The latter, who played every minute for the Southern Division champions last year, has worked out his commitment to the Red Star club and will again join the 'Quakes this season.

Despite the constant shuffling of the San Jose roster, owner Milan Mandaric claims the team is just about set.

"We will be bringing in a couple of players to add depth and some positions," the electronics magnate said. "But the nucleus of our team is right here and was on the field against Chicago."

The fan line-up is also nearly set as the 'Quakes announced that season - ticket sales have topped the 14,000 mark, well over last year's total of 10,137 in 19,282 seat Spartan Stadium.

Gaels stun Pokes, 70-66

Winning the last event of the day, the mile relay, Dublin High School's track team pulled a a thrilling 70-66 upset of defending co - round - robin champion Livermore on the losers' track yesterday in East Bay Athletic League competition.

The Gaels, anchored by Chuck Gangnuss, ran a 3:31.3 for the fastest EBAL time of the season in that event.

"It was a great team effort," said Dublin coach Tom Cathcart. "I think our relays teams did a really fine job and of course, Gangnuss was again great."

The Dublin 440-yard relay team pulled off a 43.6, best of the season. Gangnuss's best effort of the day came in the 330-yard low hurdles where he ran a blazing 3.8. He also won the 120-yard highs in 14.8, five-tenths off his seasonal best.

Dublin also got a clutch performance from sprinter Jim Boulware. Boulware won the 100 in 10.2 and the 220 in 23.1, beating out teammate Jon Batchelor both times.

Jeff Barnes of Dublin continued his fine triole jumping with a 42-8 effort. He has gone two feet further this season.

Livermore got big efforts from Wade Andrade in the shot put (50-4½) and sweeps in the high jump and pole vault. However, the Pokes' strength in the field events was offset by Dublin's overwelming power on the track.

Livermore came back in the girls division, winning 76-32 as Cheri Williams won the two-mile and 880. Julie Hayes of the Gaels took the mile in 5:38.0.

Dublin dumped the Pokes 88-48 in the frosh-soph battle. The Gaels won the 440-yard relay in a fine 46.3 and the mile relay in 3:49.3.

Gangnuss will compete in the Hill Relays in Los Altos tomorrow and Cathcart thinks he can dip below 14.0 in the high hurdles. He will be facing some of the best competition in the Bay Area.

Murphy star in Cal loss

California High swimmer Mike Murphy turned in the fastest 500 freestyle time of the young East Bay Athletic League season, 4:58.9, in last Wednesday's 104-70 loss to Monte Vista.

Murphy also won the 200 IM but his fine effort was overshadowed by a balanced Mustang attack. No Monte Vista swimmer captured more than one race.

Hustling for funds

Dee jay Scott Reubelt gets dancers John Siedentopf, Tami Klein, Teri Vegas and Steve Knowlton warmed up for their youth fellowship's dance-a-thon, open to the public at 9 a.m. Monday, April 4 through 9 p.m. Tuesday, April 5. Refreshments and "lots of good music" will help keep the hustlers on their toes for 24 hours straight, an event benefiting the John Knox Presbyterian Church's "One Great Hour of Sharing" offering. The offering will go towards three major concerns, including the emergency relief and re-settlement fund of Church World Service, a hunger fund and self development of people projects around the world. Anyone interested in participating in the dance-a-thon needs a minimum of $1 an hour in sponsors. For more details call the church at 828-1846.

Feminists affiliate with diocese

Christian Womanity, a unique version of Christ - centered feminism founded by Pat Driscoll-and Mary Rose Oborne, announces the affiliation of the movement with the Diocese of Oakland. Now housed in the Family Life Center at 2041 Mt. Diablo Blvd., Walnut Creek, Christian Womanity will receive sponsorship and supplementary funding from the diocese for this year's seminars, publications, lectures and newsletter "Theotokos."

The quarterly newsletter came out for the first time last November and is being enthusiastically received by subscribers across the United States. "Theotokos," which means "god-bearer," is the only feminist publication which relates Mary to modern woman. Among the brief but relevant columns are "Practicalities," "Prayer," "The Woman Alone" and "A Look at Books."

Pat and Mary Rose began the Christian Womanity movement in 1972 and have lectured extensively in the U.S. and Great Britain.

Church heads are pro-black

Eighty Protestant and Roman Catholic leaders, including 25 from southern Africa, have urged Christians to "support and participate in the struggle" of blacks in southern Africa against rule by white minority regimes.

At a meeting jointly sponsored by the National Council of Churches and the U.S. Catholic Conference March 25, the church leaders charged that "repressive measures applied by white racist minorities violated fundamental human rights."

St. Michael celebrates colorful confirmation

LIVERMORE — At a Mass, celebrated jointly by Msgr. Adams, the Rev. Arauje, Ph.D., and the Rev. Noel, the most reverend Floyd L. Begin, Bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Oakland, administered the Sacrament of Confirmation to candidates of St. Michael Parish on March 24.

Bishop Begin, in the traditional robes of his office, entered the church after a procession of white-robed altar boys and clergy, giving his blessing to about 1000 people as he advanced to the altar.

He was accompanied by his assistant, the Rev. William Marshall, a member of the Archdiocesan Senate. Monsignor Adams, as pastor of St. Michael Parish, extended a welcome to the bishop and his assistant, to the candidates, and to the spectators.

The altars were decorated in scarlet and white banners and altar cloth, with white candles and flowers. The Sisters of St. Dominic, who designed the ceremony schedule, wore their traditional white.

The candidates wore red and white.

Monsignor Adams assisted Bishop Begin with the Confirmation Ceremony and the Rev. Msgr. Quinn, resident chaplain of the USVA Hospital, and Mr. Richard Flores, assisted at the Mass. Homilist was the Rev. William Marshall who welcomed the candidates and addressed his remarks to the historic, biblical, and liturgical meanings of Confirmation.

The colorful ceremony was concluded by the Bishop in procession from the altar, through the church, and around the St. Francis walk to the Sacristy.

Prominent people from the scientific and medical fields will also be seen in guest appearances. Ms. Haines will be remembered by many as a star in the big band era when she sang with Harry James and Tommy Dorsey.

More staff requested for engineering dept.

PLEASANTON — The city might be able to cut down some of the business it refers out to consultants if it would hire more engineers, Acting City Manager Alan Campbell told the city council Monday night.

"We can't eliminate the need for consultants entirely," Campbell told The Times later, "but we can reduce their use if we hire more city staff personnel."

The city's work load is great in the area of engineering and new people are needed to accomplish more things, said Campbell. An added benefit of hiring them would be to eliminate some of the need for consultants, especially in certain areas of engineering and administering grants to the city, he said.

Campbell didn't have any specific figures on how many people he would recommend hiring or what they would cost, but added he will have some numbers for the council at budget time.

The council will conduct its first budget study session at 8 p.m. April 19. It will spend the following 10 days in a few more study sessions on the budget.

The city is due for more federal aid in various job grants programs and these might serve as a funding source for the contemplated engineers.

The Ark gets county use permit

Alameda County Bureau

HAYWARD — Operators of the Ark Children's Services of Pleasanton were granted a conditional use permit this week by county zoning officials provided they connect to city utilities and submit acceptable driveway plans.

Landowners James and Shirley Mitchell applied for the permit to run a school for up to 60 children. Thirty children would attend in the mornings, and 30 in the afternoons at the 3683 Vineyard Ave. site.

Zoning administrator Dick Flynn said the Mitchells will have to submit acceptable plans for a loop driveway to keep traffic from congesting Vineyard Ave.

The permit will be good for three years.

Flynn also approved a permit for a church at 11020 Dublin Rd. west of the I-580 interchange, but denied application for a school in the agriculturally zoned area.

Robert Kolb, executor of the estate of Edwin Kolb, and the House of Worship, Inc., made the application.

BORN LOSER

If you think things sometimes go wrong for you, you'll feel better after laughing at "The Born Loser" each morning in The Times Comics.

Settlement due on Crohare

LIVERMORE — The struggle for control of a road between two parks south of here may be nearing a settlement.

Directors of Livermore Area Recreation and Park District, back in November, took initial steps for court condemnation proceedings to take a 25 foot wide road belonging to local rancher Charles Crohare.

The road is sandwiched between two LARPD parks, Sycamore Grove and Veterans Park.

The fight stems from an LARPD desire to have more control than just an easement it has held since acquiring Sycamore Grove Park. That easement allows park district personnel and visitors to travel up and down the 400 foot long road which leads to Crohare's cattle ranch. LARPD wants the right to cross it, possibly with bike and horse trails.

Negotiations between Crohare and park planners have continued for a few years, but condemnation procedures were started when directors felt title to the road was necessary to obtain proper liability insurance for public use.

Attornies for both sides have been attempting an out of court settlement during the past four months.

Crohare's attorney, Lee Amaral, told The Times he has prepared a "possible compromise" which "doesn't involve the loss of property" by his client.

Former LARPD attorney Earl Odell, who is still handling this case for the park and recreation district, said he sent a counterproposal to Amaral this week.

"We are closer to agreement over the easement, rather than taking title to the road," he told The Times, noting the matter must still be decided by LARPD directors.

He said the matter may go to the board in executive session April 13.

MASON CITY, Iowa (AP) — The wedding of Dawn Friedley and Bert Roberts Jr. will be held Saturday or Sunday — weather permitting.

They plan to become man and wife while floating a mile above Mason City in a hot air balloon.

"It will be only the fourth time since 1800 that this has happened," said Dave Friedley, the bride's father and a balloon enthusiast.

On the light side

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The staff of the city's Redevelopment Agency has been instructed to come up with a method for telling what time it really is.

The issue arose after bidding on a $2 million contract was fouled up because a clock on the agency's wall ran 27 seconds slow.

It happened like this:

Deadlines for submitting bids for a job at India Basin Industrial Park had been set for precisely 2 p.m. March 14. Four contractors had submitted their bids and bid officer Frank Cannizzaro, after confirming with dial-the-time that it was, indeed, 2 p.m., closed and locked the bid box.

But 20 seconds after the lid snapped shut, up ran a representative of Bay Cities to hand in his firm's bid. The clock on the agency wall said 1:59:53 p.m. A spokesman for the firm said Bay Cities had been relying on the agency's clock.

Agency members agreed that seemed reasonable. So they threw out all the bids, called for new ones and told the staff to develop a procedure for determining the correct time.

WEST ORANGE, N.J. (AP) — The mayor of this Essex County community says he likes to read, but enough is enough.

Mayor William F. Cuozzi has been receiving hundreds of dollars worth of magazine subscriptions, vocational school courses and book club memberships in his name but without his permission.

Mori analyzes proposed tax measure

The Assembly's revenue and taxation committee unveiled its version of local property tax relief in a meeting with Governor Jerry Brown yesterday morning in Sacramento.

Valley Assemblyman Floyd Mori told The Times that the bill's key is a "circuit breaker" approach which is designed to give relief to low and middle income renters and homeowners.

The lower the person's income, the higher the level of relief, said Mori. It's done on a sliding scale. For example, if you make $10,001 and are supposed to pay $1,000 taxes on your home, you would pay the first $240 and then 35 per cent of the difference between the $240 and the $1,000 or another $266 for a grand total of $506 instead of the $1,000. That's the tax on a $50,000 to $60,000 home in the Valley, said Mori.

Someone in the same house earning $15,000 would pay $540 plus 46 per cent of the difference between $540 and $1,000, or $747.60.

"The main concept is income," said Mori. "There are some low income persons who bought their homes 10 years ago in the Valley and they would get a considerable amount of relief under this bill. The Valley is a good example of areas hit hard with high assessed valuation increases."

Other features of the bill, which is similar to the kind of bill Governor Brown has announced he would favor, include:

— a split tax roll with the state taking over the function of collecting taxes on industrial and commercial properties.

— allowing local governments to have a "piggy back" income tax collected by the state and turned over to participating agencies. At least 75 per cent of this must go directly to local property tax relief.

— a utility user's tax permissible for general law cities to enact.

The bill would spend approximately $300 million of the state's surplus revenues, "assuring there will be surplus money left for the school bill."

The Legislature must come up with a bill that will redistribute the wealth in accord with the Supreme Court's Serrano decision and most legislators acknowledge that will eat up some of the state's surplus revenues.

The committee's bill also gives some relief to renters and makes the assumption that rent is 20 per cent of a person's income.

The bill has some adjustment in the way personal gains are taxed and there is some upward increase in the income tax for households earning more than $40,000 annually. For example the limit now is 11 per cent at $40,000; that would be extended to 12 per cent at $40,000 and 15 per cent above $60,000.

Amador school head says contract near

Amador school district Superintendent Bruce Newlin believes progress is being made in all phases of the contract between the administration and teachers.

He said that Carl Krause, assistant superintendent for personnel, and teacher unit negotiator Gary Poulos met Tuesday and were slated to meet again this afternoon.

Newlin expressed confidence that mutually - agreeable contract language was imminent and that the one-to-one talks would lead to full and final negotiation sessions.

The two parties, however, have requested fact - finding and the Educational Employment Relations Board (EERB) will be sending a list of five prospective fact-finders.

Administration and teacher unit leadership would then agree on a mutually - acceptable fact - finder and a hearing would then be scheduled.

Classes in the Amador district recessed Thursday as teachers have a work day scheduled today.

The April 14 strike deadline date is still apparently in force though teacher unit president Dave Woolworth could not be reached by late Thursday for comment.

Pipeline plan by-passes voters

Following late-night selection of the Boehmer Summit route as the path for a 22-mile, $38 million sewage disposal pipeline Thursday, Valley officials agreed to measures that would allow the project to be built without voter approval — and no more delays.

Pleasanton ended its sole-holdout status and agreed to a pay-as-you-go program as an alternative financing method in case the primary method — a $7.4 million bond and added sewer service charges in the project's second phase — runs into legal blocks.

Want a finer lawn? Then read this!

Last summer, was your lawn starting to thin out? Brown patches showing up here and there? To much shade, or too many kids playing on it to give it a chance?

It doesn't make much difference whether you are starting from scratch with a new lawn or your lawn is ten, twenty-five or fifty years old; here are some facts you should consider:

WITH AN OLD LAWN you don't have to put up with a scuffy, unsightly lawn you are ashamed of . . .

WITH A NEW LAWN you can avoid the discouragement and problems mentioned above.

HERE IS WHY: Research facilities, established nearly a third of a century ago by Warren's Turf Nursery, Inc., have under observation over 1,000 strains and species of lawn grasses. Several of these new grass discoveries have had excellent ratings from universities who are doing turfgrass research. They have no financial interest in the sale of these new grasses.

One of these grasses is BenSun ® (A-34) Kentucky Bluegrass which outranks all other bluegrasses in most of the categories studied and tested. For example:

BenSun (A-34) is rated the most shade tolerant of any bluegrass.

BenSun (A-34) is the only grass to receive an excellent rating for wear tolerance.

BenSun (A-34) is rated at or near the top in disease resistance.

BenSun (A-34) has been under observation for twenty-five years and has been performance proven on hundreds of thousands of lawns, athletic fields and golf courses for the past eighteen years. No other recent bluegrass development has had such a long experience of successful ratings and performance.

BenSun (A-34) thrives in hot or cold climates, high or low altitudes and does well on good or poor soils.

BenSun (A-34) is the most hardy bluegrass available. When injured it springs back quickly, healing the injury in a very short time.

BenSun (A-34) was the only grass to remain green during the recent drought in England and Scotland. Tees at St. Andrews Golf Course planted with BenSun (A-34) remained green even when not watered regularly.

BenSun (A-34) Kentucky Bluegrass is available as sod, sod plugs or seed. The sod and sod plugs of BenSun (A-34) are guaranteed against loss from growth failure. BenSun (A-34) Sun & Shade Mixture Lawngrass Seed is guaranteed as follows:

"If you are not satisified with the results obtained from this seed, return the empty box with proof of purchase within 6 months to Warren's Turf Nursery, Inc. You will be supplied with more seed or your money will be refunded, your choice."

For every person who sees the inside of your home, thousands will see your lawn and landscaping around your home. So when renovating an old lawn or establishing a new lawn why not insist on the finest lawn possible at the lowest price possible . . . BenSun (A-34) Kentucky Bluegrass. You, your children and maybe your grandchildren will be glad you did. BenSun (A-34) is like a diamond . . . it is forever.

BenSun (A-34) is a product of the world's largest, one of the oldest and most experienced grower of fine lawns.
